Joe Armstrong spoke. He is not in favor of the Town paying for maintenance property costs and then hopefully getting reimbursed somewhere down the line. He talked about a recent Poughkeepsie Journal article that was written on this subject, and possible legislation to remedy the problem. Supervisor Tancredi stated that the Town passed a resolution years ago supporting legislation in Albany to hold the banks accountable. The Town is proactively dealing with the problem, and the County does make us whole.

SO MOVED: Supervisor Tancredi/W. Carlos

Councilman Carlos: This project started in the early part of last year. Several families in one particular area called me and were very concerned about a child almost being hit. It’s the same kind of problem we have in other parts of the Town. These are Yield signs. Traffic patterns are something that people, it becomes the way they drive through that area if they go every day. We have an elementary school there so two times during the day you have a high volume of passenger car traffic not counting the school buses. The yield signs did absolutely nothing. So, working with Sgt. Jicha in the Traffic Division we put up some speed signs but we still need to change the yield signs to stop signs. What I would like to do for these stop signs and the stop signs from the last resolution, is to have the traffic department paint the stop lines. We used to do that, I don’t know why we’ve stopped doing that. Because the way that section of law reads, where you place that stop line is where the motorist MUST STOP. We have problems with sight lines for stop signs because they are placed wrong, but I will work with Sgt. Jicha to get that done. There's no one here tonight. I had several phone calls-they all have little children and have to be home. I would appreciate my fellow board member's support in passing this resolution.
